

Aline,

I thought you might like to have this - which is probably as complete as it will ever be. I have done little or no work on this chart since the late 1960's for various & sundry reasons. There will be errors & omissions, and I will assume responsibility for these for, as you know, the additions & subtractions have been made over many years & there have been many re-typings of the original rough drafts - I hope you will excuse any errors you may see and also forgive the omissions. The "book" is only a chart & the "sketches" of some few persons are inadequate; generally only the "vital statistics" are given. Maybe someday we can do justice to the many many people herein who really are not properly recognized. There has been no intent to treat anyone unkindly or unjustly.

As ever,
Fred.
